Re: Item 12, Public Hearing Comments

Honorable Mayor and Councilmembers:

I am unable to attend the meeting this evening, but wish to express concerns regarding removal - abatement of vegetation for fire prevention
It is my hope that guidelines will be established to protect native vegetation and habitat during any clearing of land. I'm concerned that if some one construed the heavy overgrowth in Monterey hills as fire hazard we will loose valuable wildlife habitat.

Specifically, there was a large section of hillside cleared of ALL toyan, elderberry bushes and other native growth (everything but the oak trees) on large parcel (several acres on upper section of hillside) in 200 block of Monterey Rd last spring. It has resulted in nothing but exposed dirt (green grass now). I've included a couple of pix below and if you zoom in you will see what I mean.

I realize the goal is to "abate brush and native vegetation fire hazards" But I fear that without proper guidelines and educated clearing crews we will end up with nude hillside instead of the abundant diversity of oak trees, toyan, elderberry etc. that grows there now and provides much needed habitat for wildlife mammals in our increasingly urbanized area. Moreover, native brush, ground cover, & understory vegetation is critical to our native birds including Migratory birds.

Thank you for your consideration of my concerns.

What Measure H does, and why L.A. County voters urgently need to pass it on March 7th.

Measure H will specifically allocate funds from a quarter cent sales tax to provide essential services and both transitional and long-term housing to end homelessness for 45,000 people across the County, including women and children, veterans, seniors, foster youth, and the disabled. It will also prevent homelessness for 30,000 people.

✓ Measure H will assist veterans — who have sacrificed so much for us — dealing with mental illness or drug addiction, so they can make a life for themselves and return to their families and communities.

✓ Measure H helps battered women and their children get off the street and recover their physical and mental health. One in four of the homeless on the street are women.

✓ Measure H will provide treatment including mental health services, counseling, medical care, and rehabilitation for drug addiction, and temporary and affordable housing and rental subsidies.

✓ Measure H will provide training to improve life and work skills, and help youth at-risk of homelessness obtain higher education or vocational training.

Measure H will save county taxpayers millions of dollars because it's six times cheaper to treat and house the homeless than continuing to pay for trips to shelters, emergency rooms, and jails.

A year ago, Los Angeles city and county officials put aside their traditional rivalries and proposed sweeping, coordinated plans to tackle homelessness, perhaps the most challenging problem they currently face. Now, those plans are officially in place .... In March, county voters will decide whether to approve a quarter-cent sales tax hike to fund a dramatic increase in services for the homeless.

The impact of homelessness on children is devastating—they are sick four times more often and four times more likely to show delayed development. Measure H will work to ensure all children have the care and stability they need to reach their full potential.
