Hi Planning Commission,

I was thrilled to see the Notice of Public Hearing for Visionarium in my mailbox. I've been watching this establishment ready itself for business and eagerly await their venture on Mission for many many months. They had a soft opening without their wine and beers and I think they will be a fantastic addition to our neighborhood.

I do worry that the City's delays in scheduling the hearing have not left this business in trouble. I know the Planning Commission is busy, but for small business owners their livelihood depends on the timely review and approvals (or resolutions of issues) for their small business to start.

I respectfully request the commission work creatively to review and approve small business owner's projects faster. Small business owners bring revenue to our community and they bring spaces and services that bring joy and pride to our community and South Pasadena should support them

Respectfully,

Lisa Miles
South Pasadena
